

Connect with Canada's only all-business communications provider

Allstream offers communications services you can rely on

Businesses need communications services they can trust and rely on, and Allstream – Canada's only all-business communications provider – offers those services.

Helping businesses communicate faster, easier and more dependably

Allstream has a comprehensive range of innovative business communications solutions, with flexible configuration and deployment options for organizations of all sizes. No matter what you do or what you need, Allstream has it covered with:

- IP Connectivity – critical Internet and Data transmission via secure, scalable networking technologies
- Unified Communications – complete collaboration and mobility applications for integrated voice, data and multimedia
- Managed Services – we do the day-to-day monitoring, reporting and management, for more cost-efficient network control, so businesses can focus on their core competencies
- Telecommunications Services – local, long-distance, toll-free and related services keep businesses in touch dependably and economically

By choosing Allstream, you will benefit from:

- A higher level of service and support from a provider committed to earning and keeping your business
- Help with today's critical needs and tomorrow's tough decisions from a Canadian communications technology leader
- Enhanced business continuity planning by engaging an alternative supplier to increase redundancy and reduce network outages

To learn more about Allstream, please visit us at allstream.com or call us at 1 855 299-7050.

WHY ALLSTREAM

Allstream is a leading national communications provider that works exclusively with businesses of all sizes. An industry leader in delivering innovation, Allstream is focused on unifying and elevating all the ways that businesses connect and collaborate to serve customers, to drive workforce and partner productivity, and to get payback on networking and IT resources. Headquartered in Toronto, Allstream leverages the entrepreneurial spirit and skills of 2,500 employees across Canada. Our portfolio features advanced capabilities including: network connectivity and infrastructure, managed network services, and unified communications solutions. Our portfolio is provided across an extensive national broadband fibre optic network that spans some 30,000 km. We supply international connections through strategic partnerships and interconnection agreements.

